Step-by-Step Guide to Getting a Hungarian Driving License

The journey from a complete novice to a licensed motorist in Hungary involves a number of distinct turning points.

Step 1: Obtain a Medical Certificate

The really first file needed is a medical certificate of physical fitness.

1. Go to a family doctor (GP) or a designated occupational health physician.
2. The medical professional will carry out basic tests (vision, hearing, basic health history, and high blood pressure).
3. Those who use glasses or contact lenses should bring them along; the resulting license will keep in mind the requirement for corrective lenses.
4. As soon as passed, the medical professional issues an official medical certificate (Orvosi Alkalmassági Vélemény).

Step 2: Complete the First-Aid Course

In Hungary, completing a licensed first-aid course and passing its exam is necessary before making an application for a complete driving license.

- The Hungarian Red Cross (Magyar Vöröskereszt) organizes these courses.

- Lots of driving schools (autósiskola) package this course into their bundles.
- The examination consists of a multiple-choice survey and a practical presentation of CPR and bandaging strategies. (Medical professionals, nurses, and those with specific medical degrees might be exempt from this step).

Action 3: Enroll in a Driving School (Autósiskola)

Picking the best driving school is important, particularly for non-Hungarian speakers. Lots of schools in Budapest and major cities offer courses and textbooks totally in English.

The training is divided into 2 main phases:

1. Theoretical Training (Kresz):
    - Typically includes a minimum of 28 hours of classes (or a comparable online self-study website).
    - Covers Hungarian traffic guidelines, roadway indications, and policies.
2. Practical Training (Vezetés):
    - Can just begin after passing the theory exam.
    - Needs a minimum of 29 driving hours plus 1 useful test hour (totaling 30 hours), covering a compulsory distance of at least 580 kilometers.

Step 4: Pass the Theory Exam (KRESZ Vizsga)

Once the theoretical classes are finished, trainees need to take the main computer-based theory exam at a designated federal government testing center.

- Format: 55 multiple-choice concerns.
- Time frame: 30 minutes.
- Scoring: The examination runs out 75 points (some questions are worth 3 points, others 1 or 2). A minimum of 65 points is required to pass.
- Language: Available in Hungarian, English, and German at most urbane centers.

Step 5: Complete Practical Lessons and the Road Exam

After passing the KRESZ examination, trainees are assigned a driving instructor (oktató) to start practical lessons behind the wheel.

- Students find out basic vehicle control, maneuvering, city driving, and rural/highway driving.
- As soon as the trainer concurs that the student is prepared-- and the minimum hour/kilometer requirements are satisfied-- the practical road exam (forgalmi vizsga) is arranged.
- The roadway test lasts around 50 minutes and occurs on public roads with a main examiner sitting in the rear seats and the trainer in the front guest seat.
