The Doan Law Firm calls its West Texas location the Midland/Odessa office for a reason. It serves people on both ends of SH 191, in Midland County and Ector County, along with nearby communities like Gardendale and Andrews. A crash on this highway may involve an Odessa driver, a Midland driver, an out-of-state trucking company and more than one insurer. Sorting out who's responsible takes work. The firm investigates beyond the police report, gathers evidence of fault and handles the insurance companies. When a commercial vehicle is involved, the firm's experience with truck cases matters. Firm-wide, reported results include a $3.5 million settlement for a commercial vehicle injury and a $2 million settlement after a semi truck ran a red light. Those are past results and don't promise anything about a new case. A Midland car accident lawyer can also help with the Texas rules that shape these claims. Drivers must carry at least 30/60/25 liability coverage, which may not stretch far after a serious crash. Uninsured and underinsured motorist coverage is included in Texas policies unless you rejected it in writing, and that coverage can make a big difference. Texas generally gives you two years to file a lawsuit, and fault is split under proportionate responsibility rules, so early evidence counts. If you were hurt, missed work or the other driver's insurer is disputing fault, a lawyer usually pays for themselves. The Doan Law Firm offers free consultations at its West Illinois Avenue office, so you can find out whether your Midland crash needs legal help before you commit to anything. For a small bumper scrape with no injuries, you may not need one at all, and the team will tell you so. What percentage do accident attorneys usually take? Most car accident lawyers work on contingency, meaning the fee is a percentage of what they recover and nothing if they lose. The Doan Law Firm handles Midland car accident cases this way, with no upfront cost and no fee unless the firm wins. The exact percentage is set out in writing in your fee agreement before any work begins. How much of a $25,000 settlement will I actually receive? What should you not tell your insurance company after a crash? Avoid apologizing, guessing about speed or distances, or saying you feel fine before a doctor has checked you. Anything you say in a recorded statement can be used to argue you share the blame, which matters under Texas rules that cut your recovery by your percentage of fault. The Doan Law Firm can handle those calls for you from the start. What is the biggest mistake people make with a car accident claim? Delaying medical treatment is one of the most costly. Whether you go to Midland Memorial Hospital or an urgent care clinic, get checked quickly. Midland clients of The Doan Law Firm say the team helped them arrange treatment within about a week. How much can you get for pain and suffering in Texas? There is no fixed formula or cap in ordinary Texas car accident cases. The amount depends on how serious your injuries are, how long recovery takes and how the crash changed your daily life. The Doan Law Firm documents both economic losses and non-economic harm, such as pain, mental anguish and physical impairment, before negotiating with insurers. What is the hardest injury to prove after a car accident? Injuries that don't show up on an X-ray, like whiplash, soft tissue damage, mild traumatic brain injury and post-crash anxiety, are often the hardest to prove. Consistent treatment records, doctor notes and a daily pain journal help. The Midland team investigates beyond the police report to build evidence that insurers can't easily dismiss. Can I get compensation for anxiety after a car accident? Yes, Texas law allows recovery for mental anguish when it is tied to the crash and properly documented. Fear of driving, trouble sleeping and panic attacks after a wreck on I-20 or SH 191 are real harms. The Doan Law Firm can connect clients with trusted medical professionals so these effects are recorded and valued fairly. How likely is it to get sued after a car accident in Midland? Most crash claims settle through insurance without anyone being personally sued, especially when the at-fault driver carries at least the Texas minimum of 30/60/25 coverage. Lawsuits become more likely when injuries are serious and exceed the policy limits.
