

Portland, Maine has no shortage of wedding photographers, but Annie Paige Photography has built a reputation around a soft, film-inspired style and nearly a decade of experience documenting love stories. Annie began her photography journey in 2015 while traveling through Europe, photographed her Portland elopement photographers first wedding the following year, and has since documented more than one hundred weddings. That timeless, editorial approach blends natural light with an emotional, storytelling eye, giving couples images that feel both modern and classic at once.

Annie Paige Photography | 59 State St, Portland, ME 04101 | (207) 841-4333

Every wedding package is built around forming a genuine connection with the couple first, since comfort in front of the camera tends to show up in the final photos. Call (207) 841-4333 to check availability for your Portland wedding date.