

A wedding day moves fast, and full day coverage with Annie Paige Photography means nothing important gets missed from getting ready through the reception. With more than one hundred weddings documented, Annie has a strong sense of how a wedding day typically unfolds and where to be for the moments that matter most. Her husband freelance wedding photographers Portland Sapati often joins as a second shooter, which means more angles are covered during key moments like the ceremony and first dance.

That kind of coverage matters most for larger weddings with big bridal parties, where more coordination is needed to capture everyone. Call (207) 841-4333 to discuss full day coverage for your wedding.
