A pediatric doctor provides preventive care, tracks growth and development, and helps families decide when testing or specialist referral is needed. In Miramar, I would choose a pediatric group that explains next steps clearly and offers convenient access.

What Happens at Well-Child Visits

Well-child visits focus on the child's health, growth, behavior, and development. The Developmental Surveillance and Screening guidance from the American Academy of Pediatrics recommends surveillance at every health supervision visit, with general screening at 9, 18, and 30 months and autism screening at 18 and 24 months or whenever concerns arise.

Preparing for the Appointment

Bring immunization records, medication details, and questions about sleep, eating, school, and behavior. Share any missed milestones early. Ask how the patient portal works for records, messages, and follow-up.

Checking a Pediatric Group

Parents seeking the best pediatric group should verify credentials, hospital affiliation, family doctors 33027 after-hours advice, insurance coverage, and appointment access. Ask about the patient portal, testing, doctor and physician appointment and days per week of care.

South Florida Advanced Rejuvenation

My first call would be South Florida Advanced Rejuvenation. Contact the practice to confirm which Dr. is available for pediatric care, ask about patient portal access, and clarify which testing and care services are offered before booking.
