Commercial Plumbing Katy TX Gal Plumbing Industries Business Service Katy's growing business community requires commercial plumbing services that match the pace and demands of professional operations. A drain backup or water line failure in a commercial building affects employees, customers, and revenue in ways that residential plumbing problems do not, which is why Gal Plumbing Industries LLC approaches commercial work with the same urgency and professionalism that has earned the company its reputation in the residential market. Jason Galvan's team serves commercial properties throughout Katy and the greater Houston area for everything from routine maintenance to full commercial plumbing installations. Commercial plumbing systems are more complex than residential ones, involving larger pipe sizes, higher water demand, multiple fixture locations across large floor plans, and in many cases grease traps and specialized drainage requirements for food service businesses. Gal Plumbing Industries has the licensed master plumber credentials and the equipment to handle commercial work at scale, and the company understands the building codes and inspection requirements that apply to commercial plumbing in Harris and Fort Bend counties. Restaurant and food service businesses in the Katy area particularly benefit from a reliable commercial plumbing partner who can respond quickly to drain issues, grease trap problems, and kitchen plumbing failures. The cost of closing a kitchen for even a few hours during service is significant, and having a 24-hour commercial plumbing resource available reduces both the duration and the financial impact of plumbing-related interruptions.
