A few other factors are worth checking while you compare bids:

- glass performance, especially low-E coating and SHGC
- frame material and hardware quality
- whether the quote covers full-frame or insert installation
- labor warranty and product warranty terms
- any permit or code-related work that may apply

Those are separate questions, but they all point back to one thing, which is that a window choice should fit the weather you actually get, not the weather you wish you had.

A Simple Way To Decide

For many Fort Worth homeowners, casement windows make the most sense when energy performance, stronger sealing, and ventilation are the top priorities.

For historic properties, the decision can get more complicated, especially when replacing original windows in historic Fairmount Fort Worth homes or dealing with historic district window replacement rules Fort Worth Historic and Cultural Landmarks Commission.

The smartest way to choose is to start with the opening, not the brochure.

It also helps you avoid paying for features you will never use, or choosing a style that looks fine doors Fort Worth Fort Worth Window and Door Solutions on paper but fights the way your home is built.
