This guide explores what makes a case "rare," notes the most sought-after alternatives, presents a detailed comparison table, and responses typical questions for both collectors and potential investors.

What Makes a CS: GO Case "Rare"?

A case's rarity is figured out by 3 core aspects:

1. Drop Probability-- The main chances of obtaining a case after a match are intentionally low. Some cases were released with a drop possibility of less than 1%, making them immediately limited.
2. Exclusivity-- Certain cases were just readily available during specific occasions, operations, or limited-time promos. Once the event concluded, the case could no longer be gotten through typical gameplay, turning it into a collector's item.
3. Discontinuation-- Valve sometimes retires cases. When a case is no longer created in-game, its supply ends up being set, and any future demand increases market cost.

Together, these aspects produce a market where a single case can be worth numerous dollars, far beyond the small cost of a secret.
