

Controlling humidity in a basement is a key Basement Waterproofing jlbfoundationandwaterproofing.com focus of JLB Basement Waterproofing & Foundation Repair LLC's waterproofing services for Des Moines area homes. Proper waterproofing, including a sealed vapor barrier and appropriate ventilation or dehumidification, can significantly reduce basement humidity, an important improvement for most homes. High humidity in a basement contributes to mold growth, musty odors, and can even affect air quality throughout the rest of the home due to the stack effect drawing air upward.
